"pH Sensors from the Wendy Schmidt Ocean Health XPRIZE"

Presented by: Dr. Jyotika Virmani – Senior Director, XPRIZE and Matt Huelsenbeck – Prize Manager, XPRIZE.

Abstract:

Prizes break down market failures by creating platforms for technological breakthroughs through the spirit of competition. The ocean community can solve many of the ocean's grand challenges using large-scale incentivized prizes to attract the world's brightest thinkers and entrepreneurs to solve specified problems. This webinar hosted by XPRIZE, the leader in incentivized prizes for innovative technologies, will examine the successful outcomes of the recently awarded $2M Wendy Schmidt Ocean Health XPRIZE, and the innovative pH and ocean sensor technologies developed during this competition, which can be used to monitor and adapt to ocean acidification.
